Department of Juvenile Justice

Q: Does the Governor’s budget cut funding for the Department of Juvenile Justice?
• No. The Freedom First Budget recommends an additional $27 million above base (pay issues and compression not included) to ensure a smooth transition to PALM, establish an Electronic Health Record system, provide for additional electronic monitoring units, increase the Department’s cybersecurity positioning, and improve oversight in residential facilities.

Q: Does the Governor’s recommended budget provide any salary increases for Department of Juvenile Justice staff?
• Yes. The Freedom First Budget includes $15.9 million for pay issues for DJJ staff. These funds include:
  o $11.2 million to increase the base rate of pay for DJJ Detention Officers to $17 an hour and to $19 an hour for DJJ Probation Officers; and o $4.7 million to address $13 minimum wage compression issues.

Q: Does the Governor's recommended budget provide any salary increases for Department of Juvenile Justice contracted provider staff?
• Yes. The Freedom First Budget includes $25 million for pay increases for DJJ contracted provider staff.

Q: Does the Governor’s recommended budget provide any funding for maintenance and repair?
• No. However, the Department of Juvenile Justice recently received over $15 million for deferred building maintenance projects (e.g. repairs, renovations, and security maintenance projects at DJJ facilities statewide).

Q: Does the Governor’s recommended budget provide any funding to ensure that youth in the Department of Juvenile Justice’s custody receive adequate medical care?
• Yes. The Freedom First Budget includes $695,888 and three FTE to allow DJJ to transition from an Electronic Medical Record (EMR) system to an Electronic Health Record (EHR) system. The establishment of an EHR system would allow DJJ to develop and maintain digital health records that are accessible throughout the Department’s continuum of care (e.g. Detention, Probation, Residential, etc.).
• Transitioning to a fully functional EHR will allow for continuity of care, aggregate data collection, immediate access to youth records, and the clinical evaluation of the medical and mental health care for juveniles in custody of DJJ in real time as services are provided.
Q: Does the Governor’s recommended budget address the increasing costs of placing youth on Electronic Monitoring (EM)?
- Yes. The Freedom First Budget includes $280,243 to cover the increased cost for juveniles being placed on electronic monitoring (EM) as well as allow DJJ to procure more technologically advanced EM units.
- DJJ is proposing to upgrade its current EM contract in order to cover an increase in the number of electronic monitoring units as well as incorporate improved hardware, software, and provider obligations.

Q: Does the Governor’s recommended budget provide any funding to enhance the Department of Juvenile Justice’s cybersecurity posture?
- Yes. The Freedom First Budget includes $223,200 to implement Multi-Factor Authentication (MFA) across DJJ’s statewide network as a means to add an additional level of security to DJJ’s data.
- MFA is a system that requires users on a given network to confirm their identities in two or more ways before accessing sensitive data. Adding MFA will add another layer of security to protect youth data and will satisfy Criminal Justice Information Services (CJIS) network security requirements.

Q: Does the Governor’s recommended budget provide funding that will improve oversight of the Department of Juvenile Justice’s contracted residential providers?
- Yes. The Freedom First Budget includes $413,198 and five FTE to provide for enhanced monitoring and oversight services of DJJ’s residential programs.
- Funds and FTE will be utilized to provide for an increase in the number and frequency of reviews that the Department is able to perform regarding the delinquency intervention services that are being offered by contracted residential providers.
